into domestic servitude and sexual exploitation

Preface

Human trafficking has become a heinous transnational crime undertaken by highly organized syndicates. The syndicates employ deceit, coercion and prey on vulnerable girls whom they traffic overseas for domestic servitude and sexual exploitation.

Human trafficking is inherently demeaning, harmful and violates fundamental human rights to life, liberty, dignity and freedom from discrimination.

Human trafficking is incompatible with the worth and dignity of human beings

The book is intended to serve as a practical aid to the understanding of the problem of trafficking in persons and aims to encourage effective actions taken by the various international, regional and national initiatives to curb the menace of human trafficking.

It also contains an exhaustive list of Appendices on international conventions, treaties and national legislation on human trafficking to serve as useful reference materials for research.

Sincere thanks to G. Ikekhua Esq, E. Ogbeide and Ademola Osoko Esq for their constructive criticisms and valuable suggestions geared towards enhancing the value of this book.

We express our profound gratitude to the National Agency for the Prohibition of Traffic in Persons and other Related Matters (NAPTIP, Nigeria) for providing financial support for the printing of this book.

The copious references to the research works on trafficking in persons carried out by UNESCO, ILO, and Global Alliance Against on Trafficking in Women (GAAATW) are gratefully acknowledged.
